Midlands Division Four West South

Birmingham Exiles vs Alcester

Unsurprisingly Alcester's trip to the airport area of Bickenhill to play Exiles, fell victim to the weather, like most of the sporting calendar this weekend. Alcester have now been without competitive action for a month owing to the weather and the Christmas break. They will try again next weekend however, when second placed Coventry Welsh are due to visit King Coughton. The first game in October ended in a narrow 9-5 win for the men from the Holbrooks area of the city. Alcester's 2nd XV visit another part of Coventry to play Copsewood in a Warwickshire Second XV League fixture. Both kick offs are scheduled for 2.15pm.

The fixture backlog is proving a headache for Alcester's Golden Jubilee programme of events, as the "Jubilee Mystery Tour" due to be arranged towards the end of the season now needs to be rescheduled to a different weekend to avoid a clash with rearranged league fixtures. While the organisers resolve the "diary clash" there is still time for friends old and new to get involved with this special tour, which will involve turning up with passport and rugby kit (although non players are more than welcome too) for a mystery location weekend of fun and frolics somewhere in the continent.
