

Alcester 2nd XV 0 Birmingham Wyvern 2nd XV 72

Arriving with only 10 players to find their hosts with only 13, the visitors must have been surprised at skipper Steve Wade's generosity to lend them two players which meant that the home side were actually outnumbered 12 to 11.

Things didn't get much better for Alcester when they lost three more players to injury and actually ended the game with only seven men, after Jamie Miller was ordered from the field by the female match official for sharing the extent of his "hangover from hell" once to often for her liking!

The visitors took full advantage of their host's generosity to run in ten tries and confirm the miserable day for the Alcester club.
