Alcester slipped to a disappointing defeat to their second city visitors, despite a dominant forward performance which saw them win virtually every scrum, however they completely failed to use such domination and the visitors ran in eight tries, and converted two to give a comprehensive look to the score line.

Alcester's best scoring chance came from the boot of Dom Skinner in the first half, but he was wide with his attempt, and they were their own worst enemies in defence where the visitors capitalised on numerous Alcester mistakes to close out the game.
